ATLAS

A star map connecting all the stars in the night sky of Kyoto on November 2025.

ASUKA SKY 2025

Time and space are played in different scales as an ancient star map found in Asuka is painted on the interior of a tea bowl.

in the night of time light flourishes the first stars blossom spelling bright messages from distant times emptiness expands defining existence all those suns, millions of lights scattered in space

in a cartography of now this is here

tonight

your eyes crossing the starry sky that was then

a long time ago

a night

hold as a memory in your hands could we taste the past or remember the future

reading words to be written in every language one can imagine a different kind of presence reflected in the sun's golden mirror in this garden of hours one but many still life time spelled by flowers blossoms in boundless space
